DISCUSSING DOCTRINES.

SECOND DAY'S SESSION OF THE ENGLISH LUTHERANS AT GRACE CHURCH.

A Thesis on the Lord's Supper Submitted and Several Sections of It Adopted—Several Churches Apply for Membership—Election of Officers.

To-day's session of the conference of the English Evangelical Lutheran Church, which is being held in this city, was opened at 9 o'clock this morning in Grace English Lutheran Church at Garrison and St. Louis avenues. There was a better attendance than at yesterday's meeting, a number of delegates having arrived in the city last night. The meeting was opened by the reading of Psalm 51 by Rev. H. Knabenschuh of Springfield, Ill., chaplain of the conference. Rev. F. W. Adams, pastor of Grace Church, where the conference is being held, was chosen secretary, and Mr. J. Laueby of St. Louis, treasurer.

It was decided then by a motion to devote the morning session of the conference to doctrinal discussion.

The discussion was opened by Rev. William Dullman of Baltimore, who read a thesis on the Lord's Supper, the subject of which was, first, that a sacrament is a holy rite appointed by God through Christ by means of an external and visible sign, saving grace is imparted to man, or if he already possesses it, the seal for God's honor. Second, the immediate design is to impart or confirm saving grace to man. Third, the doctrine of the Lutheran Church concerning the Lord's Supper is that with the sacramental bread and wine, the true body and blood of Christ is truly present and really communicated to and received by all the communicants. Fourth, the correctness of the Lutheran doctrine is proved by the authority of the Bible and the fathers. Fifth—Since he that eateth and drinketh unworthily eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, the seal for God's honor and the love for the neighbor's welfare both compel a faithful pastor to refuse the communion to the unworthy. Sixth, manifest sinners and unbelievers are unworthy. Besides these, a truly Lutheran minister will refuse the Lord's Supper to all who cannot examine themselves, and to members of erring churches.

On motion, the thesis was adopted for discussion.

Chairman Kuegel of this point called Rev. Theodore Littell of New Orleans to the chair and took the following in the audience in order that he might take part in the discussion of the thesis. Dr. Kuegel stated that the point of discussion was that some churches held that sacraments only represented certain things.

"Sacraments now a days," Dr. Kuegel said, "are stumbling blocks. They are little things in the estimation of some. Philosophy, astronomy and the other sciences are great things in comparison with the sacraments. The sacraments, it is true, are simple things. In baptism there is only the immersing in water and in the Lord's Supper there is only the appearance of bread and wine. Though simple in form, however, the sacraments are great in the gifts they convey to man. God can choose any means he wishes to bestow his favors."

"If one of our men of progress," said Dr. Kuegel, "were to see Moses standing on the banks of the Red Sea, beating the waters with his staff, he would say: 'See that old fool beating the waters with his stick. I wonder what good he expects to do by it.' The result, however, was that the waters of the Red Sea separated, affording a passage through which the Israelites might pass. It was not because of Moses' act in striking the waters with his staff, but in his faith in God's power that the benefits to his people were derived. Objection was made by a delegate to the word 'appointed' in the text of the thesis. Upon motion the word 'instituted' was substituted.

The discussion then became general. Rev. L. M. Wagner of Gravelton, Mo., stated that it was his belief that the Lutheran Church was the true church of God on earth, which position, he held, could be proven by quotations from their confessions of faith. After considerable more discussion and grave quotations to prove the views of the divines the first section of the thesis was adopted.

who was the central figure in the discussion, said that the Lutheran Church was the true church was proven by its form of baptism. The Lutheran Church does not distinguish between forms of baptism, but holds that all are good, provided that the sacrament administered in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Discussion on the third thesis was pending when adjournment was taken.

The morning sessions last from 9 to 11:30 o'clock and the afternoon meetings from 2 to 4:30 p. m. Discussion on the remaining theses will be resumed at to-morrow morning's session. Three congregations applied for membership to the conference yesterday. They are Grace Church, where the conference is being held, and the Church of the Redeemer, also of this city, and Trinity Lutheran Church of Pittsburg, Pa. The conference will close next Tuesday.

LIQUID BREAD

Has sustained a high reputation for efficiency in the treatment of Dyspepsia and Indigestion. It differs in effect from all other malt extracts, being pleasant to taste, acceptable to the stomach and contains less than 3 per cent alcohol. This tonic's curative properties are largely attributable to its nutritive qualities, whereby the various organic functions are recruited. In cases where enervating constitutional treatment is applied and tonic treatment is desirable this preparation will be found to act with satisfaction. To those afflicted with wasting diseases or impaired vitality a complete restoration of health follows its use. SOLD BY DRUGGISTS AND GROCERS.
